

The logo features the word "DEVIL" in a large, red, textured font with a black dotted line looping through the letters. To its right, the words "AT THE" are in a smaller, white, outlined font, positioned in front of a large, faint, white "X" made of dashed lines. Below these, the word "CROSSROADS" is written in a large, white, outlined font, with two blue flame icons replacing the "O"s.

DEVIL AT THE CROSSROADS

WRITING & ILLUSTRATION
NANGJUN

Devil at the Crossroads

STORY & ART: Nangjun

- A quirky comedy that would be perfect for an animated adult comedy or a live action comedy
- Grounded supernatural adventure adds to the fun

An accidental deal with the devil goes awry.

Veterinary student Yoon Ha discovers he has a fear of blood! To solve his problem, he makes a deal with the demon Samael in exchange for his soul, which goes terribly wrong. Now Yoon must help Samael recover his demonic powers... but evil spirits keep showing up, lusting after Yoon's body?!

GENRE:
LGBTQ+ SUPERNATURAL
COMEDY

ONGOING
COMIC

58
CHAPTERS

PERFECT FOR A:
DRAMA SERIES

TONE:
WILD
SPOOKY

ADULTS
18-34

RIGHTS
MANTA/RIDI

CLICK TO READ ON

Manta

STATS: ~1M Views

COMPS

Lucifer, Supernatural, What We Do in the Shadows

A “light hour drama” / supernatural procedural.

All Yoon ever wanted was to be a veterinarian and help animals. Only, today, in school, he got the first taste of operating and passed out at the sight of blood!

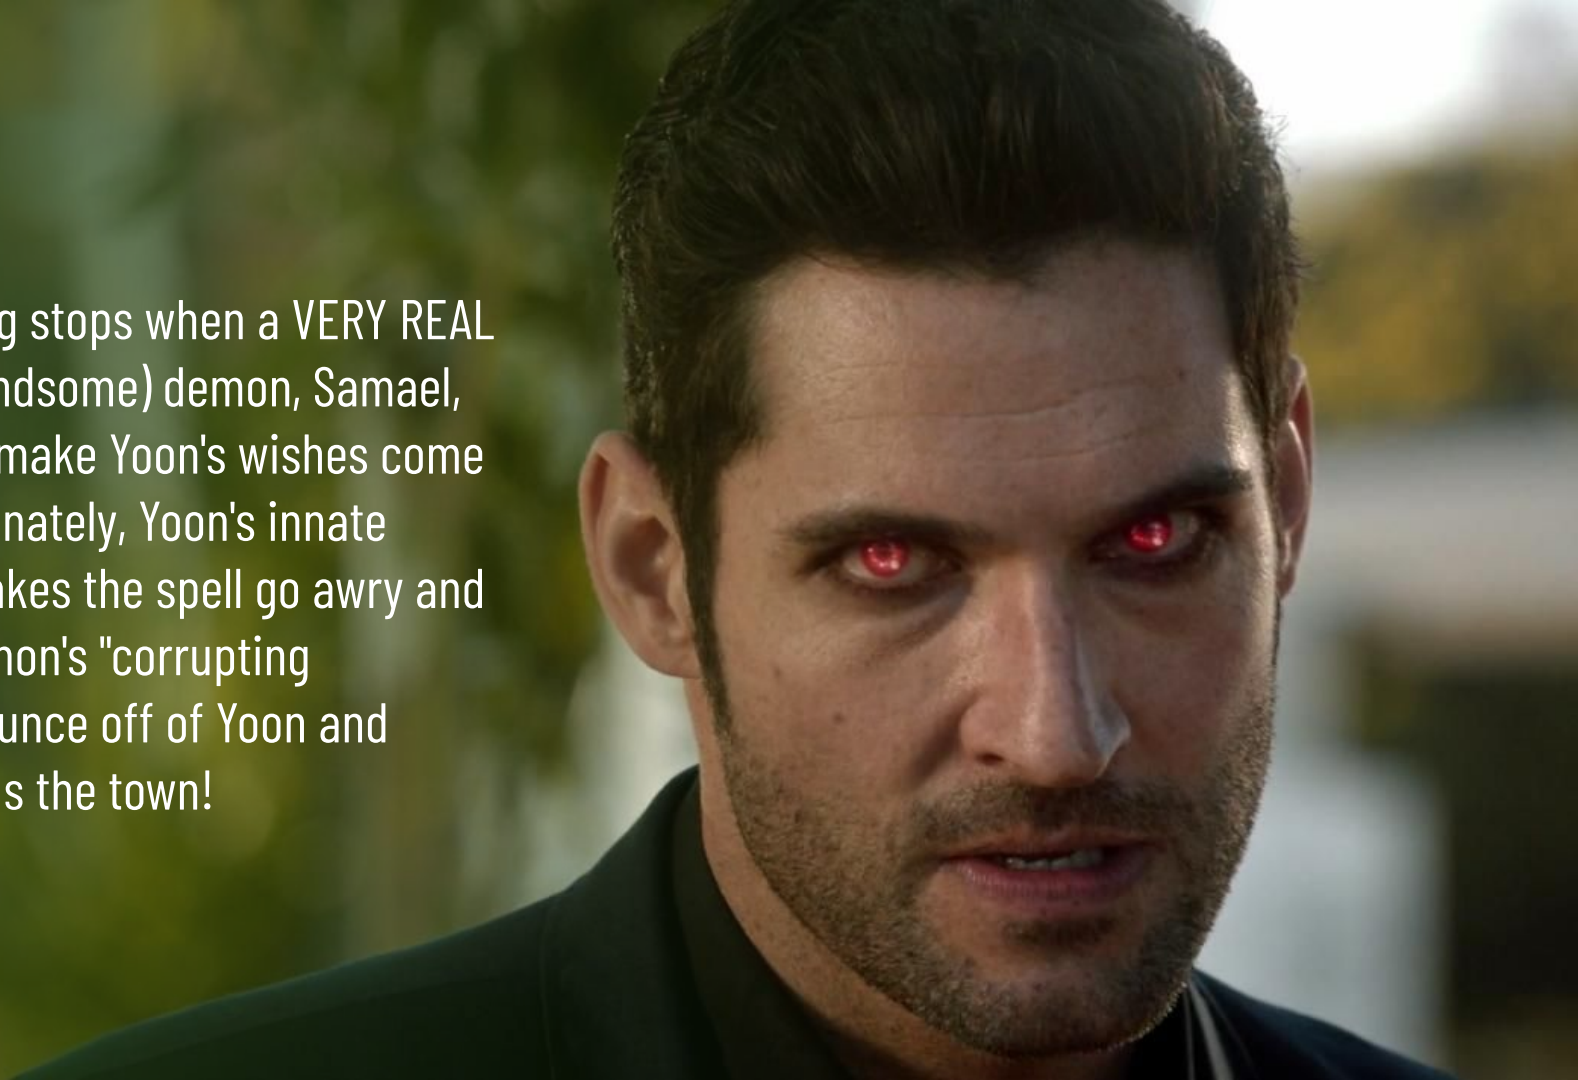

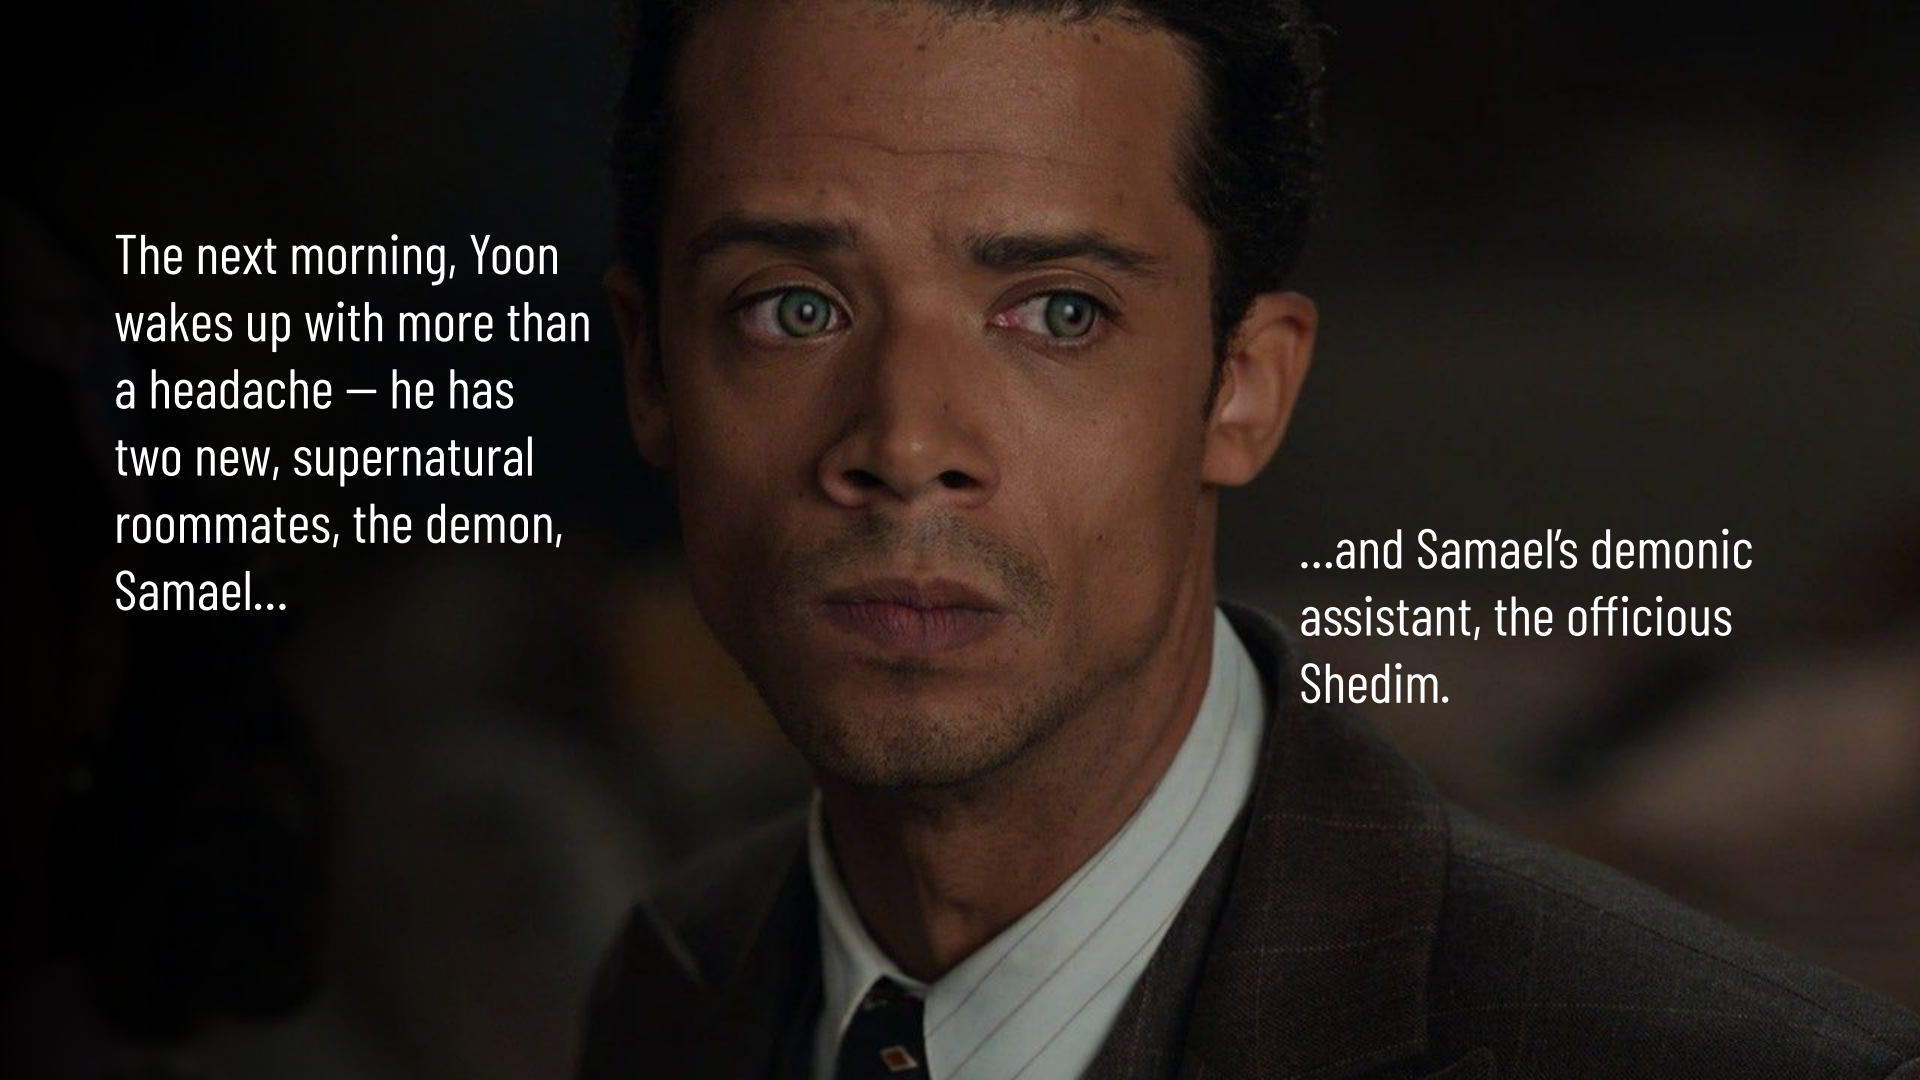

That night, Yoon and his roommate, Riu go out for drinks. Yoon drunkenly offers to sell his soul if it meant his queasiness about blood went away and he could fulfill his dreams! Spurred by this comment, Yoon's roommate, Riu, takes him to the CROSSROADS as a goof.

But the joking stops when a VERY REAL (and very handsome) demon, Samael, shows up to make Yoon's wishes come true! Unfortunately, Yoon's innate goodness makes the spell go awry and all of the demon's "corrupting impulses" bounce off of Yoon and spiral towards the town!

The next morning, Yoon wakes up with more than a headache — he has two new, supernatural
roommates, the demon, Samael...

...and Samael's demonic
assistant, the officious Shedim.

And, he has a new job — chasing down "corruptions".

What is a corruption? Put simply, demons have the power to "encourage" humans to do evil in any variety of ways, hitting all seven of the deadly sins in multiple variations. The more sin, the more power flows into the demon.

Only, thanks to Yoon's selfless reason for wanting a demon's help, all those dark manipulations bounced off Yoon, into the surrounding area, to find new "targets" — humans who are corruptible in specific ways.

And the only way to tell someone has been corrupted is if they sin enough to start absorbing enough dark energy to become nearly demon-like themselves! It could be anyone, from babysitters to doctors, school children — even a Priest!

And thanks to this turn of events, this once Prince of Hell is little more than a human, himself! In fact, only Yoon is capable of discovering, confronting and "exorcising" the corruptions, saving the humans who fell prey to them.

Once all the corruptions are back with the demon, the contract for Yoon's soul will be released and the demon's power will be restored.

The rise of each corruption will be shockingly unexpected and hilarious, while Yoon's solution will be wild, but totally true to his character as the most compassionate person ever.

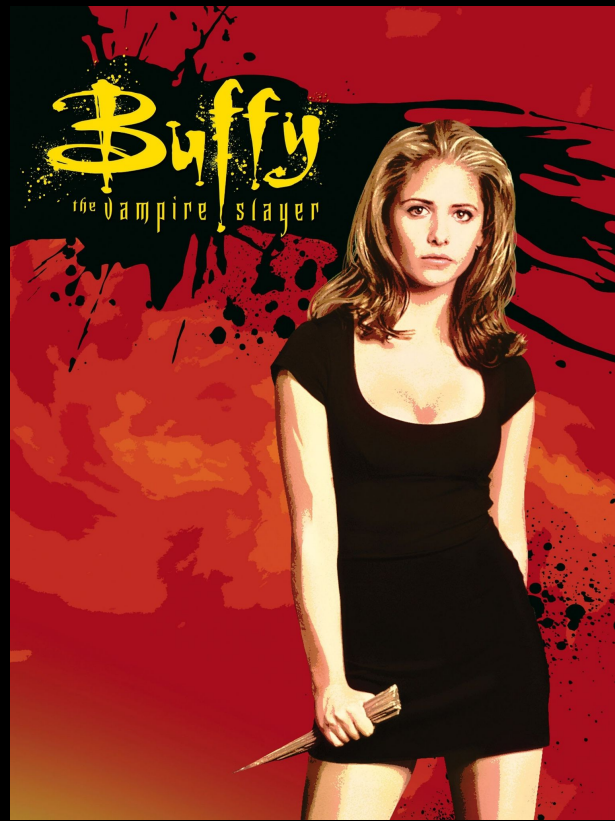

If there's an antidote to evil, it's love — which is why our two leads will have a charged "opposites attract"/"will they or won't they" slow-burn romance, so that by the time the series is over and our Prince needs to return to Hell and leave Yoon forever, it will be the last thing on his mind.

By the same token, the officious Shedim and Rui will have their own odd flirtation, befitting these strange bedfellows.

Imagine the roommate dynamics of NEW GIRL with the wild demon-hunting of BUFFY.

READ

DEVIL AT THE CROSSROADS

HERE