A HOUSE WITH BLACK CURTAINS DRAWN

A dark, dilapidated wooden house with a shingled roof, surrounded by tall grass.

A shaky footage from a phone shows us this rundown house. The shakiness only increases until the phone falls to the ground and we hear the sounds of a person vomiting.

A dark, atmospheric photograph of a two-story wooden house. The house appears old and run-down, with visible structural damage and missing windows. It is set against a backdrop of bare, tangled tree branches, creating a sense of isolation and decay. The lighting is low, emphasizing the dark tones of the wood and the surrounding environment.

Found footage videos goes viral on the Creepypasta subreddit. Footage of haunted houses is a dime a dozen, but not this one. Not this one. Users who saw the footage of this house felt as if they were in a vacuum. They vomited, cried, and couldn't understand what was causing their reactions. But they needed to find out before it got worse.

The most active users of the subreddit - One Round, Silver Flash, Won Bin, Chunky Bride, and Windy Guy. Figure out the location of the house, but only Windy Guy is brave enough to want to actually visit. A new account - Scaredy Cat, cautions him not to do so. But, Windy Guy won't listen. He's off to the house.

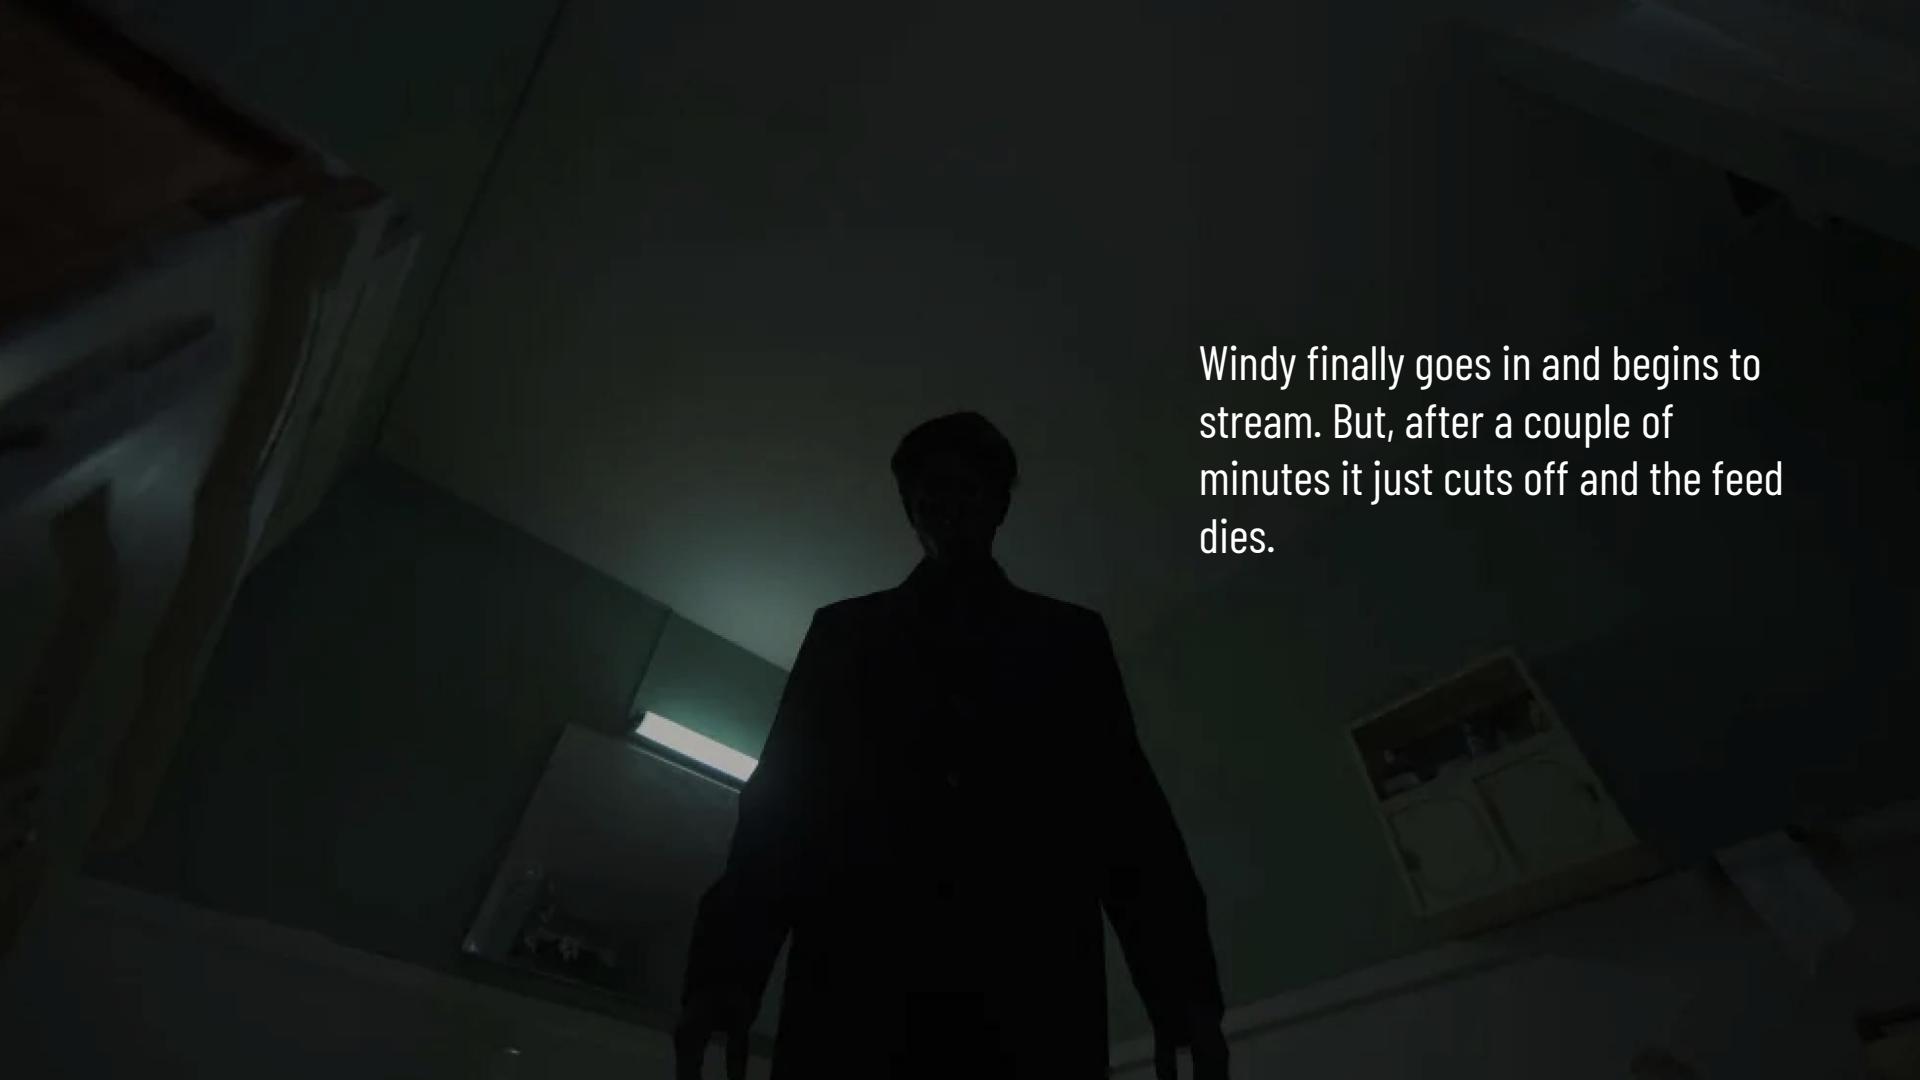

A dark, atmospheric night scene. In the center, a person wearing a dark hoodie walks away from the viewer towards a house. The house's front door is brightly lit from within, casting a glow through the glass panes. The surrounding area is shrouded in darkness, with some foliage and a wooden fence visible in the background.

Windy Guy along with his dog reach the house. But, something seems to be different from what they saw in the footage. It feels like someone is inside. Windy doesn't wanna risk it and decides to wait.

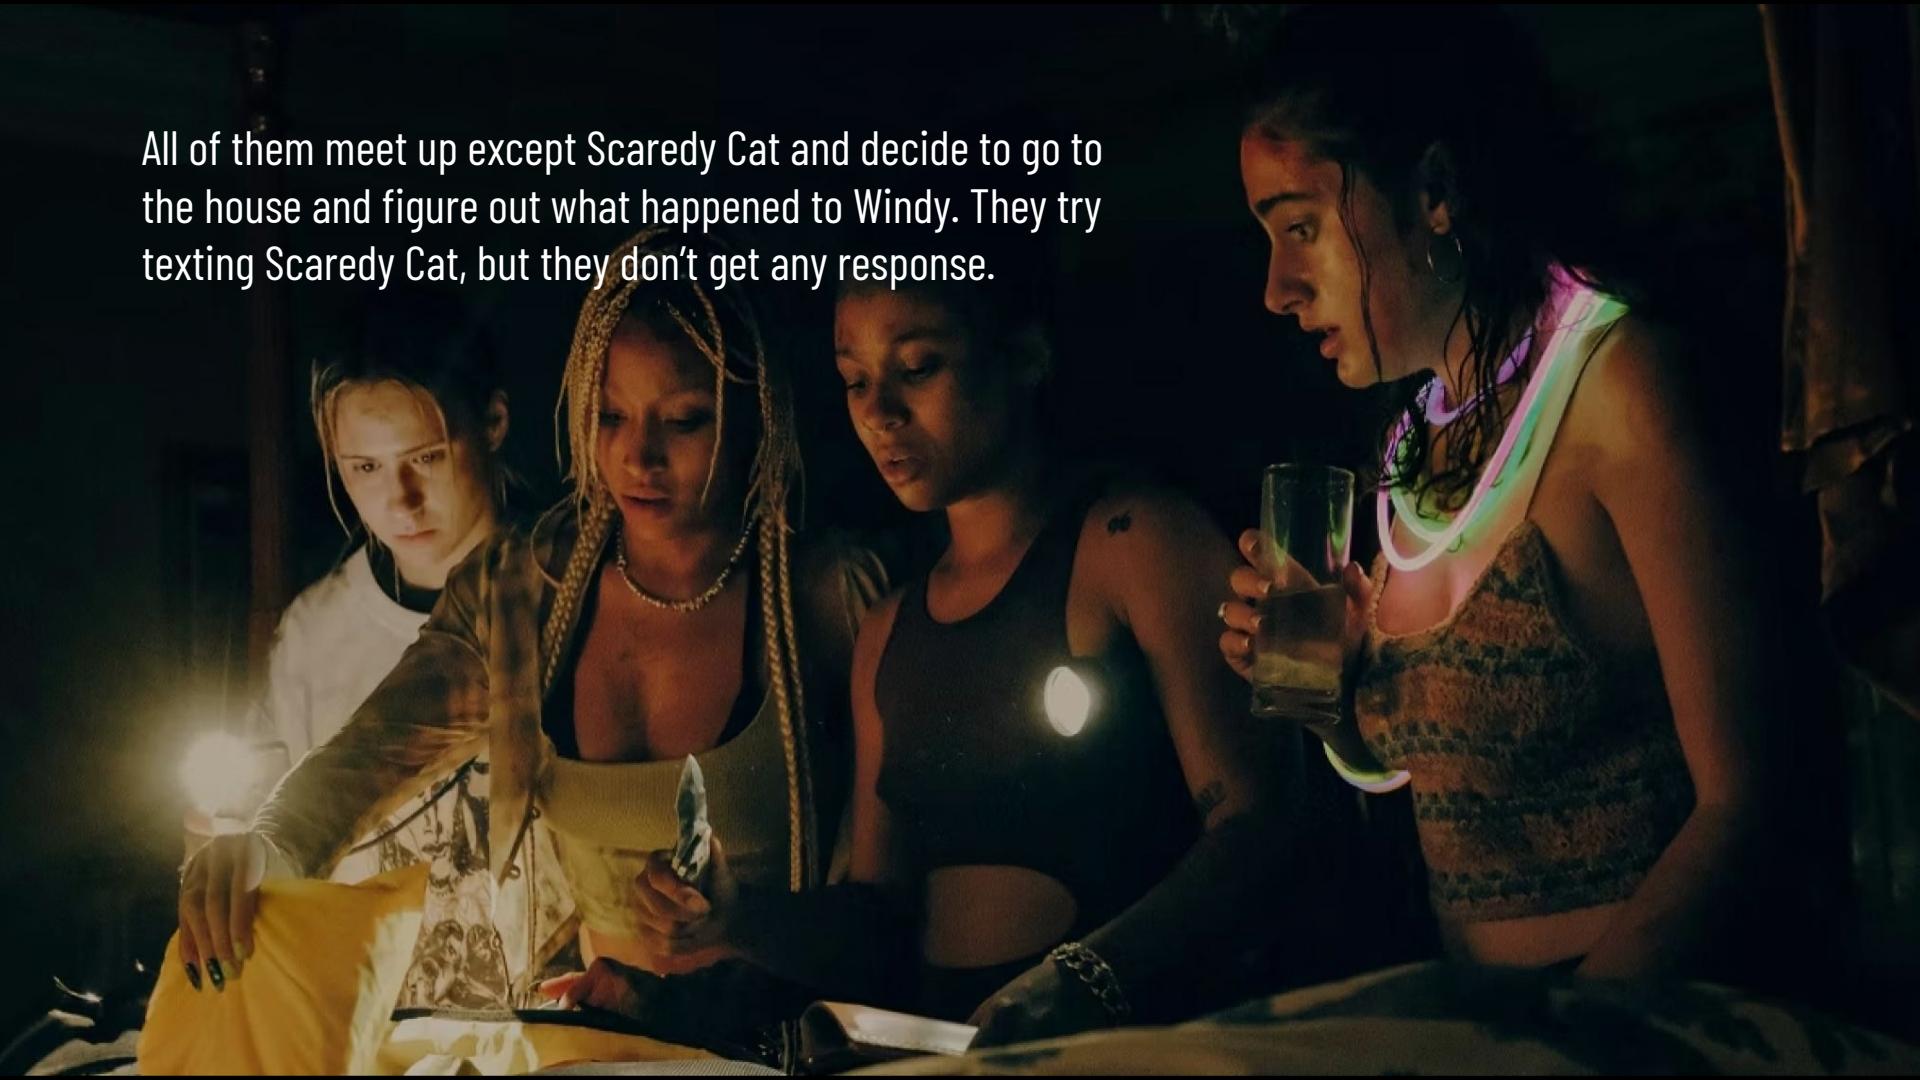

The rest of the users all try to find information about the house, and they find out that the owner went missing and since then the house has been deserted. So, who is actually in that house?

A dark, grainy image showing a person from behind, standing in a doorway. The person is silhouetted against a bright light source, possibly a television screen or a window. The room is mostly in shadow.

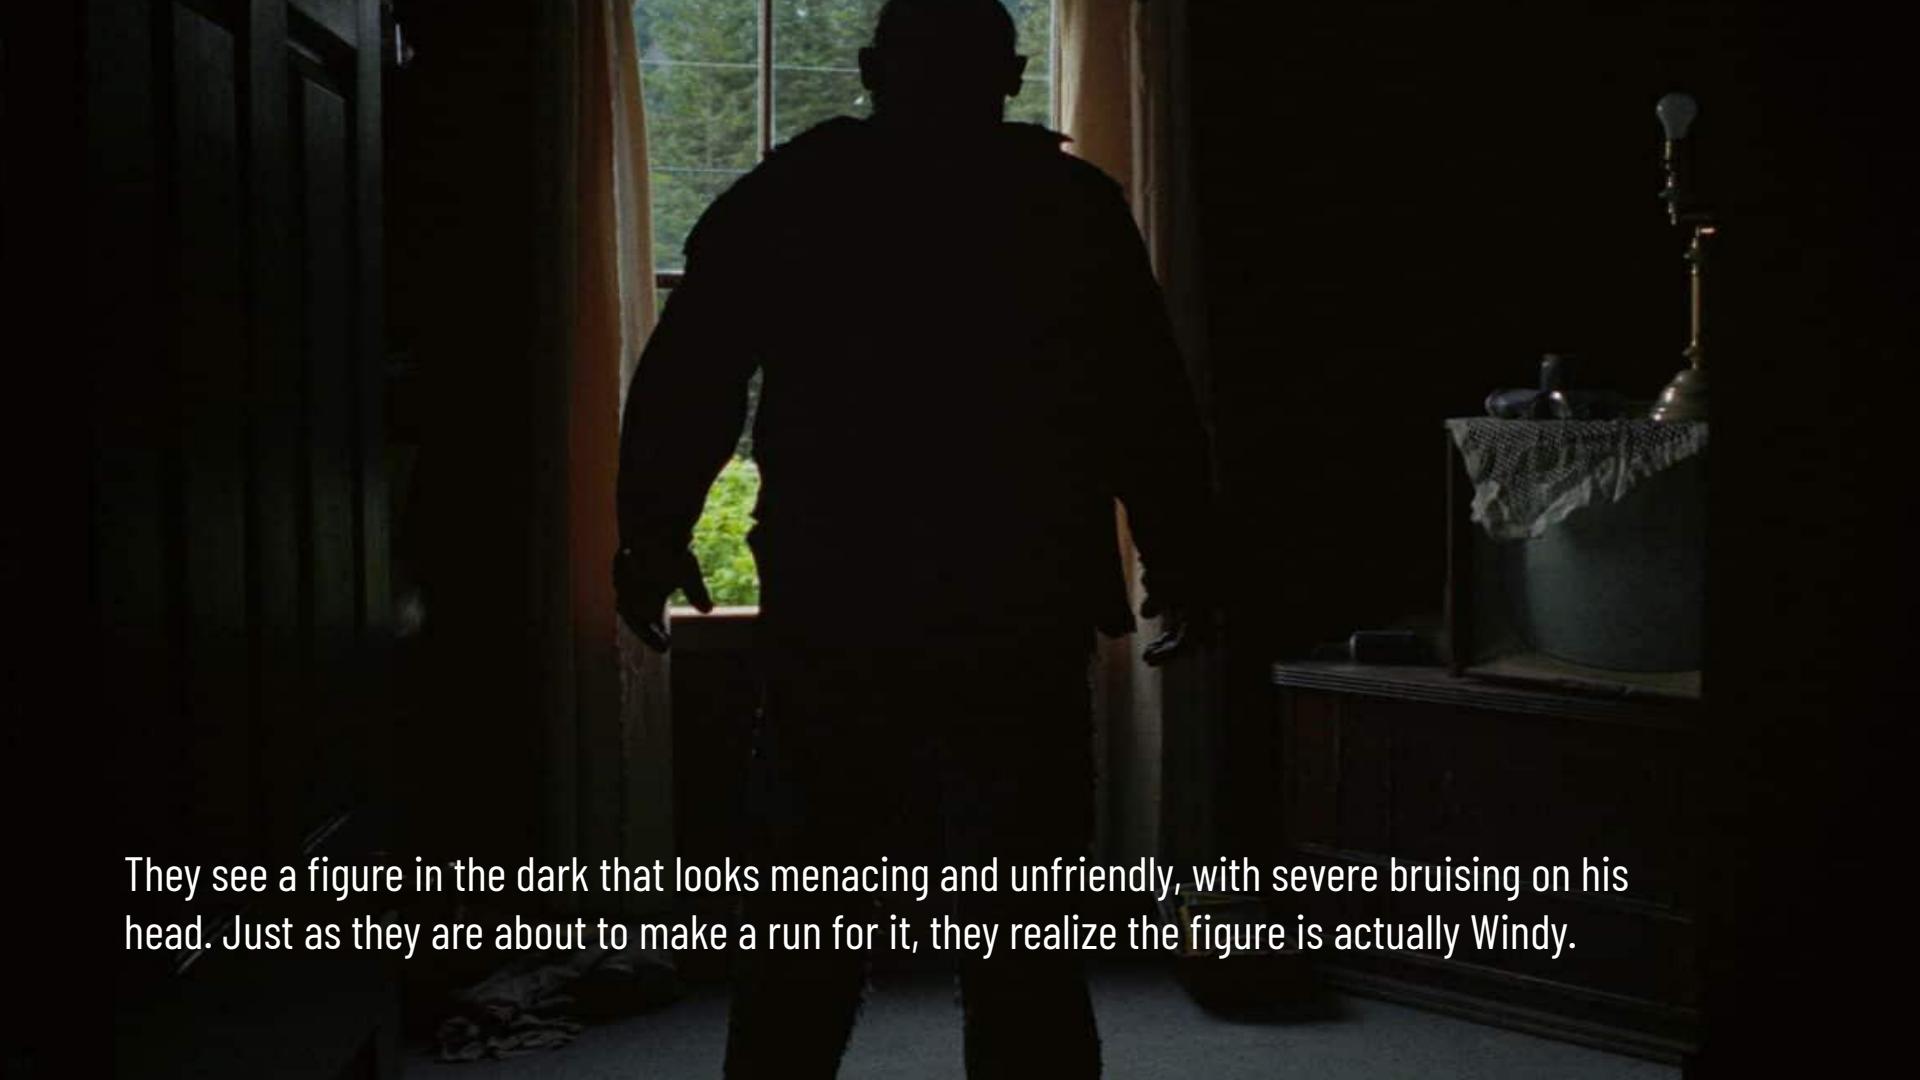

Windy finally goes in and begins to stream. But, after a couple of minutes it just cuts off and the feed dies.

All of them meet up except Scaredy Cat and decide to go to the house and figure out what happened to Windy. They try texting Scaredy Cat, but they don't get any response.

They all enter the house cautiously and on cue, eerie things start happening almost immediately.
The shadows start running around,
jumpscare back to back and it only makes them more unsettled.

They see a figure in the dark that looks menacing and unfriendly, with severe bruising on his head. Just as they are about to make a run for it, they realize the figure is actually Windy.

A woman with short brown hair, wearing a plaid shirt, holds a small flashlight in her right hand, illuminating her face and the immediate surroundings. She has a look of concern or fear on her face. In the background, another person's face is partially visible, looking towards the camera. The setting appears to be a dark, possibly indoor environment.

They all stick together, but weird things keep happening. One by one, they get picked off by shadowy beings. Screams are heard - until they're not. Slowly, only three of them remain.

A woman with long, dark, wet hair is looking directly at the camera with a shocked expression. She is wearing a brown top. A man is visible behind her, also looking towards the camera. The setting appears to be a dimly lit room or hallway.

They find a body in the basement, but that doesn't shock as them as much as realizing who it is - Windy. The real Windy. So, then who is the one who is been pretending to be Windy?

Having been discovered, the imposter Windy books it for the stairs. It's Scaredy Cat.

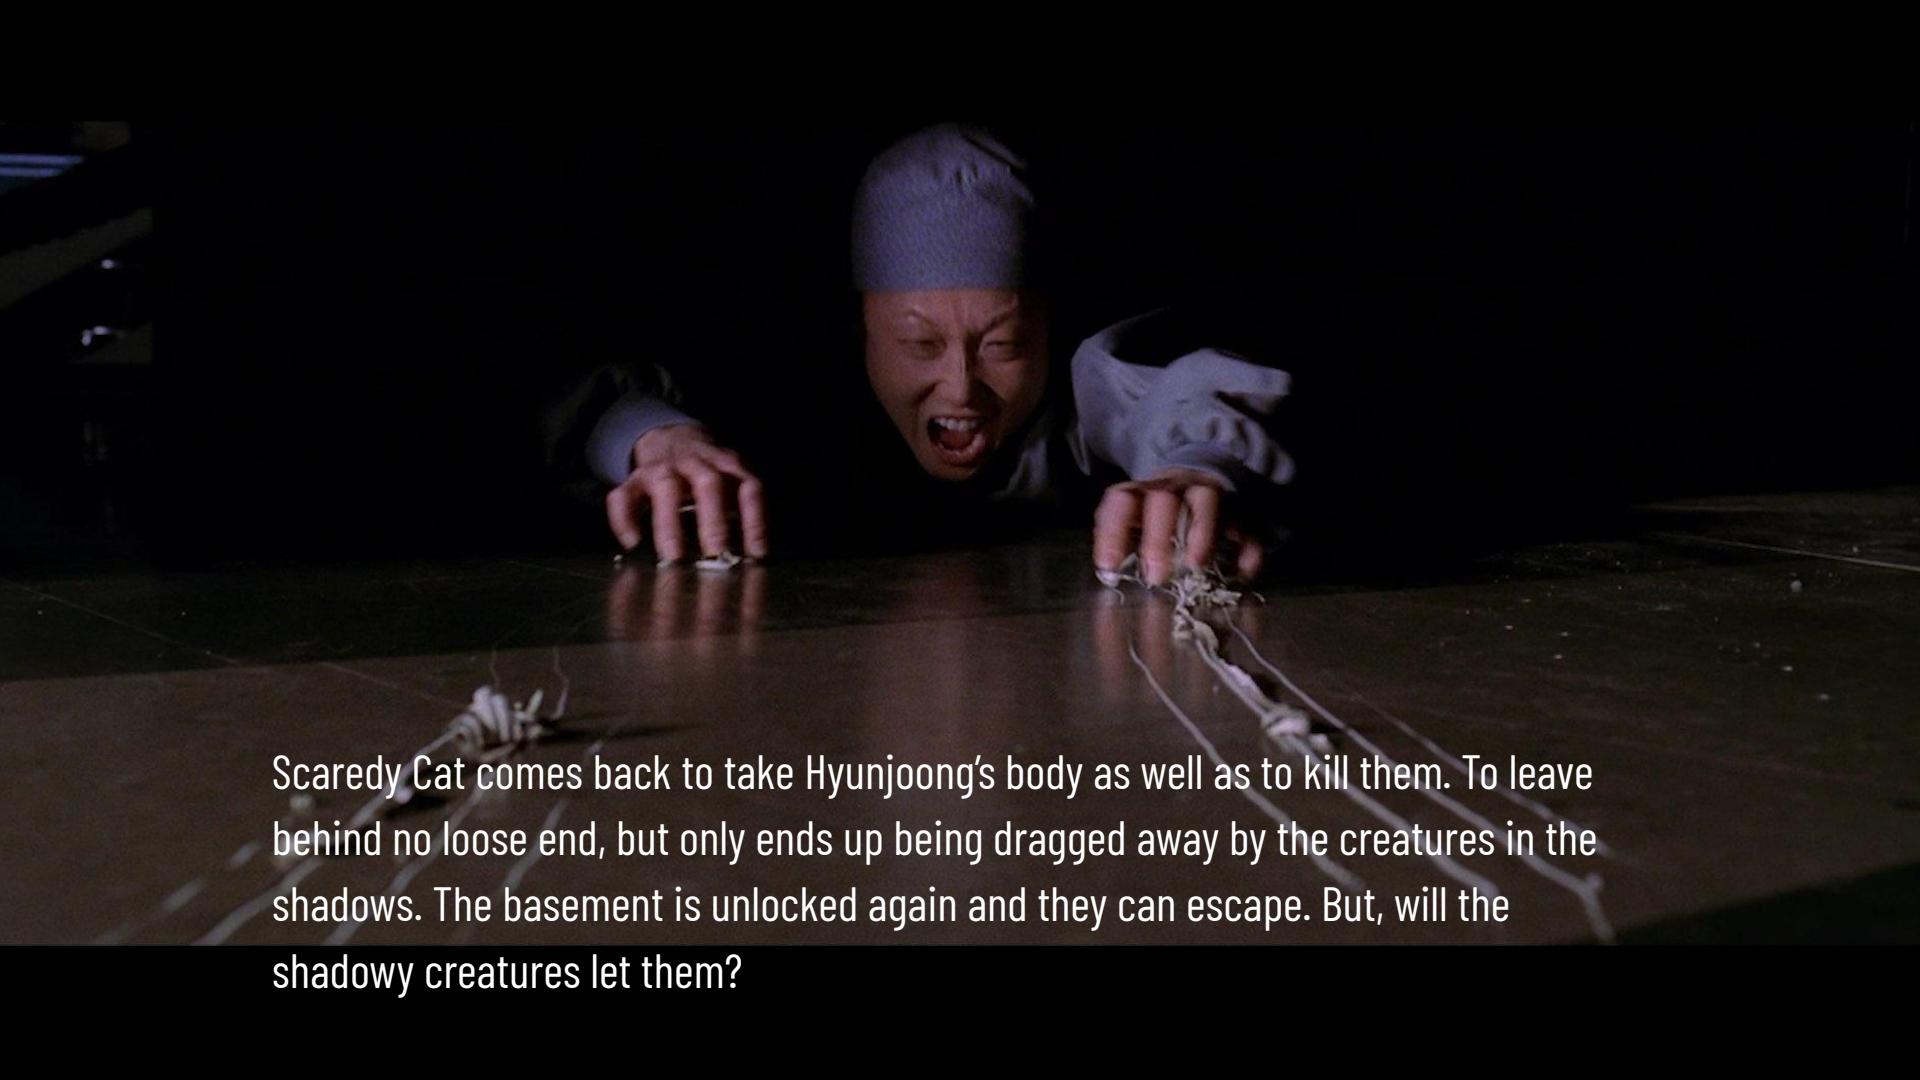

Before they can realize what's happening, they hear a click, and the door is locked. They are stuck in the basement now.

Scaredy Cat begins to dig a big hole, one that he is looking to throw all the bodies in.

They also find another body, which they recognize as Hyunjoon, a recent lottery winner who went missing. They try to figure out a way to escape the basement. But just then - Scaredy Cat comes back to take Hyunjoong's body as well as to kill them. To leave behind no loose end, but only ends up being dragged away by the creatures in the shadows. The basement is unlocked again and they can escape. But, will the shadowy creatures let them?

A woman with blonde hair, wearing a patterned top, sits in a dark, outdoor setting. She is holding a small, glowing campfire or lantern in her hands. Her face is partially illuminated by the light from the flames. In the background, there are dark, silhouetted shapes that look like trees or large rocks. The overall atmosphere is mysterious and dim.

They make a run for it and luckily for them the creatures don't want to do anything to them.

A haunted house terrifies the internet, but the answers might be closer than they think.
